

Facial Rejuvenation (Cosmetic Acupuncture)

REDUCE FINE LINES, WRINKLES, PUFFINESS, SAGGING AND DISCOLORATION OF THE FACE WHILE SUPPORTING YOUR OVERALL HEALTH.

Facial Rejuvenation, also known as Cosmetic Acupuncture, is a virtually painless, non-surgical method of reducing the visible signs of aging while simultaneously treating the underlying factors that contribute to the aging process. Acupuncture increases local circulation of blood and Qi (vital energy) to the skin. It also stimulates your body's collagen production. Patients also receive herbal prescriptions that improve metabolism. Overall, the combination of acupuncture and Chinese Herbal Medicine helps the whole body to look and feel better. This process reduces fine lines, wrinkles, puffiness, sagging and discoloration of the face. For most patients, it may erase as many as 5 to 10 years from the face, with visible results after just a few treatments.
